HONGKONG, NOVEMBER 15th, 1890.

THE unofficial members of the Legislative Council were recently referred to by His the Chamber to overthrow the work Excellency the Acting Governor as outsiders done by Mr. MACEWEN? If we are to By voting for a return to the old system. transacting the financial business of Colony in secret they have done the best to make themselves such, and divest themselves of a large portion of the influence which they ought to exercise behalf of the public on the administration of the affairs of the Colony. Neither the Government nor the public can be expected to attach any particular importance to the views of a few gentlemen arrived at in secreconclave; but when the same gentlemen speak out in public, as the representatives of the public, and submitting what they say to public criticism, they may fairly be taken asexponents of public opinion, or at least honestly trying to act as such. For anything the public knows, the unofficial members may have exes of their own to grind, and they may fidence is felt in the unofficial members than day by the Hon. T. H. WRITEHEAD. Then, again, there is Mi where they were bound to do so in consequence of the expenditure being incurred under the direct instructions of the Secretary the same as before, but the Maxim guns of State. Then Mr. WHITEHEAD went on to are coming forward, and it will soon say that the unofficial members had no opportunity of getting on record their views and. opinions, because, he says, in the case a resolution in the present Finance Committee being carried against the unofficial connection with the present estimates. Mr. members, the opposition of the latter does WHITEHEAD was at one time, and may be to the Council. This assertion was shown of a Maxim gun corps, but also a mounted to be directly contrary to fact by the Acting corps for reconnecting purposes. Colonial Secretary, who read an extract this idea was mentioned some people thought from the minutes of the Finance Committee a mounted corps would be an excellent thing. on the audit vote, in which the resolution but there were others who were ungenerous moved by Mr. WHITHHEAD himself against onough to suggest that it was a dodge to that expenditure was duly set out, together enable polo players to have their ponies kept with the result of the division upon it. And at the public expense. Under these circumthese are the sort of reasons on which the stances, anything Mr. WHITEHEAD may consideration of the financial affairs of the have to say on the subject of the Volunteers derstanding may be averted by the healthy breeze of public opinion. The Hon. P. Ryken exercised a wise dis-

to support it by any argument. It is inleresting, however, to refer back to what he said a year or two ago, before his perversion the struggle for greater publicity. When the Hon. A. P. MACEWEN moved that all matters of public interest, and more particularly the voting of public funds, be discussed openly in Council, and not, as heretofore, at private meetings of the Finance Committee, the Hon. P. RYRIK acted as seconder, and made the following very ex-The purest ingredients only are used, and collect remarks:- The money of the pub " lie is the money of the public, and the whole of us, officials and unofficials, are servants of the public. We have got to deal with movey that is not ours, and we have got to deal with it openly before the world. That has always been my opinion. I hold to it. . . I see no reason why dis-"cussions on votes of public money should not take place in public. If any persons make facetious remarks and they are reported, they need not be afraid of having them reported, and if they are they need not make them; but if they want to talk "good solid business, they need not be afraid to have good solid business re ported." And this is the gontleman who now moves that the estimates be considered in secret! The hon, member's remarks about the unofficial members as well as the officials being survants of the public, and about dealing with public money openly, although they seem to have slipped his own memory, ought not thus lightly be relegated to oblivion. Had not the No Credit-given for Bottles that look dirty, public of Hongkong expressed se-clearly as opportunity allowed that it was its wish that Acrated Water, as such Bottles are never used the financial, affairs of the Colony should be members justify to themselves or their constifuents this flouting of the public, wishes? Mr. MACEWEN, speaking before publicity had been secured, said :- " If the Colony were polled to morrow, I am sure there would not be a dissentient voice with regard to the total abolition of all secret meetingsof the Finance Committee." And the hon. gentleman, we believe, was right, and that the same certainty might be expressed to-day, exceptions being made as regards the Mr. RYKIE of 1890 as distinguished from the Mr. RYRIE of 1886 and the other unofficial mem bers of the present day. Mr. MACEWEN moreover, in his advicacy of the principle of publicity, expressly claimed to be speaking as the representative of the Chamber of Commerce. What warrant has been given to

It is not difficult to trace what may possibly be the explanation of the extraordinary conduct of the unofficial members on this occasion. They desired to go into the ques tion of salaries, a subject in connection with which there are details that, it may be concoded, may be more appropriately considered in private than in public. They could have proposed in Finance Committee that the Council be recommended to appoint a special committee to examine into and report upon find secreey more conducive to the attainment the new scale of pay; but instead of doing Overland Mail, when reproducing the above, of their ends than publicity. THE FRIGHTFUL GUNPOWDER EXPLOSION AT TAIPING-

The N.C. Daily Name gives some additiona details of the above disaster. It says :-- On the and November, at 10 a.m., a terrific gunpowder explosion occurred at Taiping, a town on the south bank of the Yangtaze several miles back from the river, and some twenty miles this side of Wuhu. There is, of course, nothing known as to the cause of the explosion, but there were about fifty people under a mandarin at the powder mills where the explosion occurred, and menus portion of the city, including the district magistrate's yamen, was demolished, as was also the imission of the Jesuits, which was between two and three miles distant from the mills. A portion of a cannon; between two and three feet long, fell through the roof of the mission, and a large stone fell in the mission enclosure, buryitself in the ground. The town was in a terrible condition; scarcely a single house had escaped injury in some form. many being entirely blown away or burnt to the ground, and everywhere scattered over with fragments of tiles, bricks and rafters. The Prefect's yamen was much damaged, while the Prefect himself was so seriously bartthat he died the next morning. The yamen of the district magistrate is entirely destroyed, the walls having been blown outward allowing the roofs to fall flat down. The Confucian temple, one of the largest buildings in the city, has scarcely a whole tile left on its roof, while many of its walls are so shaken as to require rebuilding: Of the magazine itself not a whole brick remains; where it stood is now a hole about 20 feet deep and 60 or 70 feet wide.
